

DISCOVER
BOYNE
VALLEY

Birthplace of Ireland's Ancient East

Kells Courthouse

Tourism and Cultural Hub

Free entry
Groups
welcome

Discover the rich heritage of Kells, one of the most important towns in Early Medieval Ireland. From round towers and high crosses to modern festivals and food events, Kells has something for everyone.

comhairle chontae na mí
meath county council

IRELAND'S
ANCIENT EAST®

Fáilte Ireland

The monastery of Kells was one of the most important in Early Medieval Ireland. Its most famous treasure is the Book of Kells, a highly ornate version of the four gospels in Latin. Kells is still a vibrant town today, with many festivals and events including the Hinterland Literary Festival and the Kells Type Trail.

Designed by famed architect Francis Johnson and built in 1802, Kells Courthouse is now home to a special exhibition which inspires visitors and locals alike to explore this picturesque town and the surrounding Boyne Valley.

Explore Kells Courthouse

Facsimile copy of the Book of Kells, with touchscreen panels

Replica of the Kells Crozier

Model of medieval Kells

Digital and printed information on the Boyne Valley

Children's activity area

Interactive information touchscreens

Kells Highlights

The monastery's round tower

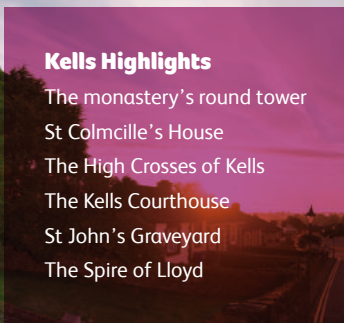

St Colmille's House

The High Crosses of Kells

The Kells Courthouse

St John's Graveyard

The Spire of Lloyd

Kells Courthouse Tourism and Cultural Hub

Headfort Rd, Kells, Co. Meath, A82 RY62

(located opposite the Market Cross on the R147 entering Kells from Navan)

Free admission. For opening hours see website.

t +353 (0) 46 924 7508

e kellscourthouse@discoverboynevalley.ie

discoverboynevalley.ie